Hi,

As you know we have an ongoing battle to keep numbers down to try and make the school as safe as possible. This is a stretch for many schools in the area. We did initially say to parents of critical worker children to bring their children in full time to aid teaching in class but as we are not able to reduce the numbers significantly after receiving forms on Sunday, we have to take further action.

From Monday we will be asking parents to bring children in only when they are working. We are encouraging those that have older children to keep their children at home as they should be able to do their work on their own. They will state the days they need and those that are shift workers will need to tell us what they are doing for the following week by Friday at 11am. This list will then be updated weekly.

I am sorry for this as I know it makes life more difficult in class but safety needs to be a priority. Many schools are going down the same route. I have just signed forms from my children's school as my wife is working with a rota in her school and will be home schooling for two days while still working from home.

A letter will go out this week.

I would hope you understand why we need to do this,

Thanks

Jamie
